Legendary Wines of the World

There are many wines in the world which express qualities of greatness and which are produced in small quantities; however the wines featured in this section are all truly exceptional and excruciatingly rare. Each one of these wines is arguably the finest example of its kind and is the ultimate expression of its provenance. Such is their stature that it can be said with all conviction that these wines are legendary in every sense of the word.

We are proud to be able to offer such rare wines by the glass through our use of the groundbreaking Coravin system. Using this system we can serve a glass of wine without removing the original cork from the bottle, maintaining the wine in its optimum cellaring condition, protected from oxygen, and ready to be enjoyed for another day.

Whether you are a curious enthusiast or an accomplished connoisseur, each glass of one of these legendary wines offers a memorable lifetime experience. To find out more, please speak with your sommelier.

First Growth Wine Flight

The five Premiers Crus of the Médoc classification are served together in an unforgettable flight celebrating their brilliance and individuality. Classified in 1855 (with Mouton-Rothschild promoted slightly later) the five 'First Growths' of the Left Bank are the zenith of France's most iconic wine region. With incredible subtlety and nuance, each wine expresses a unique microclimate of the Haut-Médoc and Pessac-Léognan.

Five 50ml glasses of Les Premiers Grand Crus Classés de Médoc are served together with an explanation of their common theme and differences.

Petrus, France (D)	🏆 2014	4,500	1,576	864

Unobtrusive, in the middle of the Pomerol plateau, the wine cellar at Petrus reveals little about the treasures within. All important here is the vineyard – the result of incongruous geological “accident” which, allied to Merlot vines, produces the most rarefied, sumptuous and powerful of wines. Indisputably one of the most desirable wines in the world, Petrus is the undeniable jewel in the crown of Pomerol, if not France.

Sassicaia, Italy (D)	2010	625	220	120

The original ‘Super Tuscan’, Tenuta San Guido’s Sassicaia broke the mould in the 1960’s by planting Bordeaux varietals in Tuscany, and inspired a movement that would take the fine wine world by storm. Much emulated since then, Sassicaia remains one of Italy’s most deservedly sought-after wines.

Vega Sicilia ‘Único’, Spain (D)	🏆 🏆 2012	625	220	120

Vega Sicilia is the most emblematic of Spanish bodegas. A historic wine cellar over 150 years old, it is situated in Spain’s revered Ribero del Duero region. A legend and an icon, Vega Sicilia Unico is a blend of Tempranillo and Cabernet and is recognized worldwide thanks to its sheer quality.

Barca Velha, Portugal (D)	🏆 🏆 2011	785	276	152

First produced in 1952, people thought legendary winemaker Fernando Nicolau de Almeida was mad to transport blocks of ice 120 miles up the Douro river from Oporto. He knew the secret: the effect of the extreme heat of the Douro Superior, needed to be tamed to produce a wine of such elegance and harmony. In more than half a century of existence, Barca Velha has had only 19 harvests and three winemakers and has become the world-wide standard bearer for Portuguese wine.

Penfolds ‘Grange’, Australia (D)	2018	775	272	150
----------------------------------	------	-----	-----	-----

Penfolds Grange is Australia’s most famous wine and is considered the point of reference against which nearly all other Australian red wines are measured. More and more, it has become an international benchmark for Shiraz, together with the finest wines from the Rhône Valley of France.

Opus One, United States (E)	🏆 2016	650	226	126

One of the Napa Valley’s first true greats, Opus One is highly sought after by collectors and connoisseurs. Born of a partnership between Robert Mondavi and Baron Philippe de Rothschild in 1979, Opus One represents the best of both worlds: a legendary wine resolutely French in style but made from vines rooted in the unique terroir of Oakville, California.

Château d’Yquem, France (7)	2004	700	77

Sauternes’ most acclaimed wine and global superstar, Château d’Yquem, was designated Premieur Cru Supérieur in 1855, a classification created purely for this single producer. One of the world’s longest-living wines, the tiny production of this iconic wine depends on perfect vintage conditions.

Champagne Laurent-Perrier was founded in 1812 but the story is really one of modern renaissance. In 1939 Eugénie Laurent sold the House to the de Nonancourt family and in 1948 Madame de Nonancourt passed control of the House to her son Bernard. Full of energy and ideas, Bernard was unafraid to challenge convention and had a modern vision of a champagne style that was cleaner on the palate and could be enjoyed any time.

He brought innovation and a pioneering spirit to the House, and so the Laurent-Perrier style was born.

His legacy lives on through his daughters who manage the House today.

Cunard Private Label

Our wine specialists have worked with renowned wine merchant Corney & Barrow to create three world-exclusive blends for our Cunard Private Label wines. The grapes come from specially selected vineyards in the upper Minervois, whose 'gnarled old vines' dig deep into the soils, giving rise to a wonderfully complex wine.

Cunard Cellar Reserve

In collaboration with renowned wine merchant Corney & Barrow, our wine specialists have sourced a series of iconic wines, each representing the very best in class. This range features a Provence rosé from historic Château la Tour de l'Évêque, whose trailblazing female winemaker Régine Sumeire pioneered the pale pink Provence rosé style we all know and love today; a classic white Burgundy from the Auvigue family in the rolling hills of the Mâconnais in southern Burgundy, an opulent Rioja Reserva from small family winery Bodegas Zugober, and a fine Prosecco from the Ruggeri family, who have been farming their sought-after hillside vineyards for 500 years. Furthermore, we have also secured a unique and rare parcel of an incredible dessert wine from Gascony in south-west France: the Pacherenc Barrique D'Or, a traditional late-harvest style almost lost forever, but revived by passionate local winemakers. A tantalising wine collection, not to be missed.

England

Vignerons are special people indeed. Taking on Mother Nature requires real strength of character but one might question the (in)sanity of attempting to make wine in a climate as unpredictable as England's. So, how to be a winemaker in Blighty? Exact ingredients and timings may vary but start with a dream, a few spoonfuls of fervent conviction, equal patience of spirit, top it up with sheer dogged determination and you have the basic recipe. There's no doubt that winemakers with the mettle are learning fast. While the concept of English wine seems to be causing a degree of mirth across the channel, it is interesting to note how many champenois are investing in vineyards on the chalk-rich soils of England's southern counties.

Alsace

A rather complicated history is reflected in Alsace's style of wine; that of a region which has changed nationality six times in 300 years. There are obvious Germanic influences yet the wines here are unique, more powerful, drier than those of Germany and with quite a different mineral definition.

Burgundy

Burgundy's complexity and tremendous diversity are the result of geological accident. Centuries ago, faulting tore the great valley apart, easing the passage of the nearby Saône River. The slope thus formed is irregular and intricate, making for a rich tapestry with which to create stunning wines. Burgundy begins in Chablis, isolated some 80 miles north of the rest of the region with its very individual terroir. The region then extends over some 180 miles of varied, spectacular countryside, as far as Lyon in the south, via the Côte de Nuits, Côte de Beaune, Côte Chalonnaise, the Mâconnais and Beaujolais.

Bordeaux

Today's Bordeaux wines face many challenges in a world where wines are increasingly accessible – a far cry from the rather stoical classicism for which Bordeaux is best known, creating wines to last. They do say, however, that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery and Bordeaux blends are emulated the world over. Despite all of the technical know-how available, the fact remains that what makes Bordeaux special is unique to Bordeaux; a complex geological, meteorological and geographical mix which cannot be copied. Bordeaux wines, produced with respect for their origins, are special. Happily, an increasing number of producers are coming to realise that they are better off perfecting what they have rather than trying to copy the power of warmer climes. Vintages are naturally different and are all the better for that – great food wines.

The Loire

The Loire stretches over 600 miles and is the longest river in France. Travelling through no fewer than 12 départements, it is small wonder that the scope for different styles of wine is so wide. The Loire Valley has a marginal climate reliant on south-facing slopes with sunshine reflected on stone, streams and sheltered oasis. The Loire is home to some of the world's most famous wines; Sancerre and Pouilly-Fumé from the central valley to Anjou-Saumur with its warmer Atlantic influence ideal for sweet whites, rosés and sparkling wines.

Rhône

The northern and southern areas of the Rhône Valley differ so much in terms of geology, topography and climate that they ought to be considered two different regions. The northern area, with its steep, granitic slopes planted with terraced staked vines produces perhaps the finest reds from Syrah and Condrieu from Viognier. The southern area takes on a more Mediterranean style where vineyards are planted with a myriad of varieties with a distinctive southern French character. Both areas of the valley benefit from the cooling Mistral wind, allowing for greater freshness than would ordinarily be expected this far south.

Languedoc - Roussillon

Languedoc-Roussillon is the central region in the south of France. More relaxed wine laws here allow wine makers to be much more experimental in terms of blends and styles, making this an incredibly exciting wine region, with lots of hidden gems and wide ranging styles of wines. About a quarter of all vines in France are found in this region and it is the largest vine growing region in the world. Following huge investment since the 1970s, this has become one of the most successful wine regions in France.

Italy

It is hard to imagine a more exciting or varied wine-producing country than Italy. With a vibrant winemaking history spanning over 2,000 years, and vineyards stretching from the Alps through the Apennine mountains to Sicily, the Italian peninsula is home to an enormous range of climates, topographies and soil types hosting hundreds of distinctive grapes unique to Italy. It is hardly surprising then, that Italy's wine range is so diverse, spanning all colours and styles, from dry to sweet, still wine to sparkling wine, and everything in between.

Portugal

Portugal is not a Mediterranean country. Portugal is neither Mediterranean in geography, climate nor attitude. It is also not homogenous in any sense - quite the opposite. Diversity finds its form in the classic north-south divide of its people, in the cultural and economic wealth of the big cities and in the rustic simplicity of the countryside. In wine too, diversity and choice is manifest in the 200 plus indigenous grape varieties and in all the varied climates of its multiple wine regions. From the steely dry whites of the northerly Vinho Verde to the luscious, sumptuous, sun-kissed wines of the southerly Alentejo, Portugal has something for everyone to enjoy. It also lays claim to the world's oldest protected wine producing region (and World Heritage Site) in the Douro Valley; traditionally important for Port production, the Douro is now also home to some of the finest wines available in the world today .

Central Europe

Since Roman times, the countries of Central Europe have been elaborating their own unique styles of wine. Germany has mastered Riesling, whereas Hungary lays claim to the oldest demarcated wine region in the world (contested with the Douro Valley in Portugal) producing sweet Tokajj wines of ethereal splendour. Within Central Europe you will find a treasure trove of singularly expressive wines and millenia of experience.

Lebanon

Lebanon is fast gaining a reputation for excellent and interesting wines, made Eastern Mediterranean from South and South-West France varietals. Bekaa Valley enjoys a cooler climate thanks to mountain-high altitudes, and is home to a number of iconic wineries. Embodying the rule that a country's wines are best shown off by its cuisine, Lebanon's wines make the perfect pairing for its mezze and vegetarian dishes.

Israël

Israel's best-kept secret is its wine. With over 300 wineries, the country has enjoyed an explosion of wine culture in recent years, and Clos de Gat's wines are the perfect ambassadors for this burgeoning wine region. Grapes are pressed in a 3,000 year old 'gat' (Hebrew for wine press) and wines are fermented in open vats with natural yeasts from the vineyard, producing a range of wines representing Israel's unique terroir in the foothills of the Judean Mountains.

Canada

More commonly known for its winter-harvested Icewine, Canada's climate in Niagara also provides a surprising home-away-from-home for Burgundy's finest, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir. Frost is held off by the warming effect of the Niagara Escarpment, leaving grapes in peace to develop subtlety and complexity over the course of a lengthy growing period.

The quality and availability of Chilean wines has flourished in the last twenty years. Australia

Australia's wine industry has been phenomenally successful over the last 30 years and today is the world's fourth largest wine exporter, with wines sold in over 100 countries. Australia was the first of the 'new world' wine producing countries to understand how to appeal to modern wine drinkers, with its easy-drinking wine styles. Its innovative strategy of producing and labelling wines according to grape variety proved highly popular and saw Australia steal valuable market share from traditional producing countries such as France, Italy and Spain.

New Zealand

New Zealand's wines continue to soar in popularity, driven by the exuberant, stylish Marlborough Sauvignon Blancs that have become the country's signature. Despite the fact that this grape variety now accounts for almost 70% of New Zealand's entire production, equating to some 200 million bottles a year, New Zealand is certainly no one-trick pony when it comes to its regional and varietal scope. Its Burgundian Chardonnays, pristine Riesling styles and rich, perfumed Pinot Noirs remain hard to beat for their quality, balance, finesse and sheer drinkability.

South Africa

South Africa is one of the world's most exciting wine producing regions today. The South African wine industry is in renaissance, supported by outside investment (particularly from Europe), and a dynamic new generation of winemakers keen to push quality boundaries, experiment with site selection and create different wine styles. The Cape's location is key to this: the wine lands here are buffeted continually by cooling ocean breezes, tempering the intense heat at this latitude and providing near-perfect conditions for high quality wine grapes. South Africa's wine styles typically reflect these conditions, combining exuberant sunshine favours with the elegant structural frame more typical of cooler-climate European wines.

Japan

Japanese Sake has played a long and distinguished role in the evolution of Japanese tradition and culture. Sake reflects the appreciation of the Japanese for the ebb and flow of the seasons, and is enjoyed and shared among friends. More recently Japan has also seen a significant improvement in the quality of its wines, produced from the indigenous Koshu grape varietal

Akashi Sake Brewery pride themselves on maintaining a traditional handcrafted approach to creating the finest Japanese Sake. The history of the brewery stretches back to the end of the Tokugawa Period (1600-1867), when the company produced soy sauce and traded in rice and then in 1918 started to brew Sake for the first time. Brewing superior Sake by hand requires all five senses to perfect the natural processes of fermentation and flavour development. Even the hushed sounds of the natural fermentation at work can be heard in the cool, quiet rooms of the brewery.

Sweet Wines

Sweet wines are the ultimate expression of decadence. In the best examples, high acidity cuts across luscious sweetness leaving pure, mouth-watering intensity. These wines are made by concentrating the sugars in each grape via a number of outlandish methods - such as encouraging a special fungus known as 'noble rot' which pierces the skin and allows water to evaporate, leaving a shrivelled grape; or, with Ice Wine, leaving grapes to freeze on the vine well past harvest and into winter, then crushing them to extract the sweet nectar from the ice. Paired with desserts, with foie gras or all by itself, dessert wine should never be an afterthought.

Sherry

One of the great wine genres, Sherry is sometimes a little overlooked nowadays. The enormous variety of styles allows Sherry a chameleon-like ability to pair with a surprising array of foods. From the young, fresh, appley Manzanillas to the old, viscous, date-like Pedro Ximenes, Sherry still provides genuinely interesting wines and outstanding value for money.

Port

In 2011, renowned wine expert, Jancis Robinson MW, declared that the finest wines produced that year were vintage Ports. Indeed the quality of Port wines has moved from strength to strength over the last few decades and Port's position as world class wine is now indisputable, as is the craftsmanship that lies behind them. White, Rosé, Tawny and Ruby; blend, single vineyard, single harvest all amount to a plethora of choice to suit the most particular of palates.
